The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Drink Testers Coming

A one-day symposium on the "Drinking Driver" was held in Santa Ana last week by the California Traffic Safety Foundation. One of the problems was the noonday drinker.

Demonstrated was a coin-operated, self-testing device which will soon be introduced to the public for use in bars, airports and other public places.

During the luncheon break, a number of people attending the meeting tested the device.

No figure was given on the number of people who passed the "Auto-Breatalyzer" but a no-host bar, opened for the pre-lunch tippers, got a heavy play.

Government Changes Possible

Two items appeared in the news last week that may portend a great change in the way of life for all Americans.

UPI reported that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew had "denounced as totally spurious" a document linking his office with an alleged suggestion that the 1972 presidential election be cancelled and the Bill of Rights repealed.

SCANLAN'S, a New York based magazine published the document from what it called a "confidential memo" written on the vice president's stationery to substantiate its charges.

The other item was a widely disseminated item via Kiplinger's News Letter. It warned that another boom and more inflation is ahead in the mid-70's.

Those in the "interpretive news" business need to interpret those two bits of information for the innocent.

Kiplinger apparently sees no governmental attempt to give guidelines to wages or prices. This failure could lead to repetition of Germany's post-war financial crisis wherein the hausfrau took a wheelbarrow of Reichmarks to the market for a loaf of bread and a bag of potatoes.

Even though Agnew vehemently denied the Bill of Rights charges, there have been other balloons sent up from Washington regarding changing our form of democracy to a "benevolent dictatorship". Of course, the Bill of Rights would have to be subordinated to the "temporary dictator" in such an arrangement.

We suspect that the administration feels that production and wage revolutions would follow price/wage controls in the present economic atmosphere. Wage controllers (unions) and price controllers (industry) are already stronger than government in these areas. A completely new set of economic regulations would have to be developed. To enforce them the forces of dictatorship would be needed.

For example, welfare workers in California rejected Governor Reagan's attempt to straighten out the welfare mess. It forced Reagan to admit that welfare workers had wrecked the program and "there is nothing I can do about it."

Thus it appears that wage and price controls today can be by edict only. Either industry or union can "bust" any administration which attempts to slap on controls without a declaration of war to bulwark the order.

With a new form of government, it would follow that a new monetary system would be required. Kiplinger's "Boom and Inflation" prognostication will affect the fiscal responsibility of the government. One thought is that it would repeal the dollar economy with its nickel, dime and quarter fractions. A rather weird approach could be the vegetable route. Two former dollars would be "one pineapple", as an example. Four cucumbers or ten potatoes would equal one pineapple. The value of the "vegetable money" would be pegged above the market value of the edible it represents but less than the money value it represented previously. Thus, a whole new monetary system would evolve. Under a prosperous dictatorship the new money would remain firm. But we'd have a Hell of time removing the dictator.

The present inflation, created by previous liberal administrations, helps only the speculator and injures those who get paid to produce for the nation. The harder they produce, the more profit accrues to the speculator.

More and more support of the "dictatorship" will come as producers find it harder and harder to meet the obligations for life's necessities.

It may be that it is already too late for President Nixon to return fiscal responsibility to these United States — but we hope he does. So do most workers and all retired folk.

Under the new monetary setup, a pack of cigarettes would be a cucumber and the subscription rate to this newspaper would be a pineapple. A glass of beer would be about two potatoes.

See! It's giving the feeling of being less costly already.

Work Session Scheduled For L.G. Planning Group

Another work session is scheduled for the Lemon Grove Planning Committee's Executive Committee on Thursday, August 6 at 3 p.m. at the L.G. Junior High School.

Summer Workshop At Golden Avenue Closes

The second annual summer creative workshop, connected with Golden Avenue School, in Lemon Grove, comes to a close this week.

The workshop, which is sponsored by the Golden Avenue PTA, is an enrichment program for school children during the summer and is operated by volunteer teachers and staff.

Classes in the program included Guitar, taught by Ann and Kristi Clark, Music, taught by Lori Hall, and Sports and Games, taught by Dan Heiserman.

James V. Dorman, the temporary chairman, said that reports are expected from the by-laws, work program, and boundary committees.

All meetings are open to the public and interested citizens are invited to participate, Dorman said.

The overall committee will develop a community plan representing the determination of local residents.

Representing the County will be Robert Kelsay, chief, Division of Community Planning, County Planning Department.

Kelsay said all offices of the Committee will be temporary until presented to the Board of Supervisors for approval.

Rail Repair Center In L.G.?

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Special) — Not many people are working on the railroad now.

Federal officers seeking to restore a spur line at Ft. Carson, Colorado had to look half way across the country to Lemon Grove before they turned up a contractor capable of doing the job.

Winner of the $51,000 Army base contract was Ivan T. Bodine, 7575 North ave., Lemon Grove, who specializes in such odd jobs as the painting of bridges, sandblasting storage tanks and restoring railroads.

The award was announced this week through the office of Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin (D-37 SD). The Small Business Administration, which placed the contract, had tried to find a qualified bidder in the Rocky Mountain area.

"But there are just no rail experts left anymore, at least not in this area," an SBA official in Denver told Van Deerlin.

Bodine said he would start work at Ft. Carson about December 1. He will take three men with him to Colorado and hire the rest of the workers he'll need after he gets there. He estimated the project, which involves rebuilding a spur line worn down by heavy usage, will take about 45 days to complete.

Bodine has just finished sandblasting a 1.2 billion gallon storage tank in Chula Vista for the San Diego Gas and Electric Co.

"We specialize in the unusual," he told Van Deerlin.

Play Writing Course Set At Grossmont

Grossmont College will again offer a special evening course in play writing during the Fall semester. The three-unit course titled "Drama 160 - Play Writing" will be offered each Monday evening from 7 to 10 p.m.

According to Martin Gerish, drama instructor, the course will provide a critical analysis of dramatic structure and techniques of play writing as well as practice in the fundamentals of effective stage play writing.

Prior writing experience is not required, and anyone who has a desire to write plays and wishes evaluation of their efforts and constructive criticism is invited to enroll in the special course.

One or more dramatic compositions may be substituted for the course's final examination. An evaluation of the student's original work may be made by students in the acting class with the performances recorded on video tape for future analysis and study.

Workshop Set At L.G.J.H.

New methods of teaching elementary school children to read will be the subject of a 3-week workshop for teachers scheduled to begin August 3 at Lemon Grove Junior High School.

University of California Extension, San Diego will sponsor "Workshop in Innovative Practices in the Teaching of Reading," a 5-unit course designed to introduce teachers to the most successful innovative teaching techniques.

Stanley Levenson, assistant professor of education at San Diego State, will teach the class.

The workshop will meet 9 a.m. through noon at Lemon Grove Junior High, 7866 Lincoln st. A $75 enrollment fee is required and interested teachers may call 453-2000, extension 2065 for information.

District Teachers Get 7.5% Salary Increase

A $1.2 million salary, fringe benefits, and program improvement package for Grossmont High School District employees has been approved by the Governing Board.

"The revised salary schedules and fringe benefit package represents the equivalent of a 7.5% increase for teachers and administrators and a 7% equivalent increase for contract classified staff," according to Associate Superintendent Stanley McClintic.

"The fringe benefits include an increase in major medical coverage and a District-paid dental plan for all employees.

"Funds were also provided for transportation for girls athletic events, the establishment of a vocational welding program, and an increase in the instructional supply budget.

Kinetic Art Continues Today At Grossmont

Grossmont College will continue its popular "Kinetic Arts" series at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., today when the fifth program is screened in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

In this showcase of international prize-winning short films, viewers will have the opportunity to see what is happening throughout the world in experimental film work. The films have been described in critical reviews as beautiful, poetic and exhilarating as they are indescribable.

The program will include "Re-Entry" produced by Jordan Belson, San Francisco, under a Ford Foundation Grant. Belson is concerned with recreating the central experiences of awareness.

Time, space, and exploding energy are resolved into an organic sense of existence. Combining animation and live action, Fred Mogubub, the king of pop art, allows that Tarot cards to tell his fate, as inks colors and pens are taken over by the unconscious in "Unknown Reasons."

With "Vaucherin" Parisian Pascal Aubier becomes one of the leading film makers in Europe. Described as the most important short film of the year, "Vaucherin" is carried off with dazzling force.

ets for District schools," said McClintic.

The new salary schedule raises beginning teachers' salaries to $7,500 with a top salary of $16,100 for teachers with 14 years of service and additional college credits.

With the new salary package the leadership abilities of classroom teachers will also be recognized by a "leadership factor" which provides for additional pay for classroom teachers who wish to stay in the classroom rather than become counselors or administrators.

"The leadership factor will be awarded for demonstrated accomplishments and responsibilities well beyond the obligations of the regular assignment. This factor recognizes, with compensation, that the leadership and involvement of teachers is the heart of the education enterprise," explained McClintic.

"The revised structure of the teachers' salary schedule is also significant because it is the first time administrators, school department heads, and teachers with extra-duty assignments, such as ASB advisor, drama, speech and journalism instructors and coaches, will be paid, on a ratio basis, for the extra time they work and the additional responsibility which they have," said McClintic.

L.G. Man Jailed After Sniping Incident Friday

Ignacio Solis Romero, of 7465 Pacific ave., Lemon Grove, was arrested Saturday by deputy sheriffs at the Lemon Grove Office, after he surrendered in connection with a sniping incident.

Romero, 30, was booked in County Jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to murder an off-duty policeman.

Patrolman Randel Swanson, a member of the San Diego Police Department, reported that as he went off duty Friday a bullet apparently fired from a high-powered rifle struck the passenger side of his vehicle as he was driving east on C st. in San Diego.

The bullet reportedly came from an abandoned lumber yard on C st.

Helix Irrigation District To Hike Water Bills On November Statements

The first increase in area homeowners' water bills since 1966 is expected to go into effect in November as a result of action by the Helix Irrigation District last week.

The directors of the district, in action Wednesday increased rates due to increasing costs of labor, water supply, and inflation, according to board chairman Harry Griffen.

Griffen said that the Metropolitan Water District, which sells water to the Helix District, has hiked costs $4 this year, and will probably up the price by that amount next year. He said that the district might even up the rates by $4 each year.

The Helix District, which made the last price increase in 1968, has set this fiscal year's budget at approximately $5 million, and will have an estimated deficit of $300,000.

The board of directors scheduled a meeting for this week to work out other ways to meet the deficit. The increase in water prices is expected to bring in an estimated $117,000 to $125,000 in additional revenue, but more spending must be shaved from the budget in order to balance it.

Increases in this year's budget include an $74 increase in salaries, a 3.5 increase in fringe benefits, and a 5% cost-of-living increase for employees of the irrigation district.

The increase on the average water bill will show approximately an additional $1.35 per two months. Consumers are billed every two months.

Charges for the first 500 cubic feet of water during the two-month period will remain at $.50 per 100 feet, which is the same as the current rate. But the next 3,000 feet used in the period will cost $.33 per 100 feet of water, an increase of $.01 per 100 feet.

The average water bill now shows a charge of approximately $15 for the two-months of water service, but the expected increase in that bill will hike the charge to 16.35.

L.G. CofC Looks At Local Street Cleaning

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce looked at some of the problems plaguing the community and examined possible solutions at its regular monthly board of directors' meeting Thursday at the Burning T Steak House.

President Bob Russell heard Street Sweeping Committee Chairman Ed Loop report that 17 firms on one side of Broadway would subscribe to a business community sweeping program. It would take 50 subscribers at $2 a month to make the program possible, he said.

Russell reported that a luncheon meeting with representatives of the County Road Department has been scheduled for a briefing on the improvement of Broadway which is scheduled for January.

The improvement will control cross-overs on Broadway between Imperial and Grove. It will also control parking encroachments.

The board unanimously voted to again explore the possibility of deeding the now privately owned footage on Broadway to the County in exchange for improvement and maintenance. The maintenance would include regular sweeping by County equipment as well as upkeep.

A public meeting was held for that purpose several years ago but the project fell through when an opposing group voiced objections.

The Board also agreed to seek replacements for three members who have not attended for several meetings. "There is always a valid reason for absenteeism," President Russell said, "but we need people who will attend and work."

P.O. Grows So Does Cost P.M. Says

The Lemon Grove Post Office had 41 employees and did $29,000 worth of business in 1949. Now it has 46 employees and does $327,000 in business. It cost $360,000 a year in Lemon Grove to do it, however, French Faucher, L.G. Postmaster told the L.G. Rotary club Monday.

Reorganization of the Post Office will probably increase postal rates, Faucher said. But he explained that it was opinion only and that he had no firm information to base his opinion on. "First class letters conveyable could cost 10 cents under reorganization," he said.

This week, the Rotary club will hear one of its own members, Roger Verbiest, discuss the "Thrill of Becoming an American." A native of Belgium, he was naturalized Friday.

Swedish Smorgasbord Due In Lemon Grove

A Swedish smorgasbord restaurant is coming to Lemon Grove.

It will replace Los Amigos restaurant at 7961 Broadway which is now owned by Julie Miller.

New owners are Gustaf and Inga Olmebrand who have successfully operated restaurants in Glendale and elsewhere.

The Olmebrands will take over the restaurant in September, close it for remodeling, and open it under a pretty Swedish name. The building will be completely renovated, the couple said.

Mrs. Miller and her two youngsters, operated Los Amigos for two years before selling.

'Squawk Time' Now For Tax Assessments

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — People who wish to contest their property assessments are filing appeals at nearly twice last year's rate, according to Porter Cremans, clerk of the Assessment Appeals Boards.

She said that as of Friday, 898 applications had been issued and 170 filed at her office in Room 306, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego.

The filing period opened on July 2 and will close on Sept. 15 at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Cremans said it appears a record number of applications will be filed from the interest shown to date. She said that if the usual pattern is followed, business will be much heavier — with resultant delays — during the last two weeks.

Her staff will assist taxpayers and County Assessor E. C. Williams has representatives present to discuss valuations and answer questions.

LG Fire Report

The rescue teams of the Lemon Grove Fire Department were called three times this past week; once to a hit-and-run, once to a swimming pool case and once to a fainting case.

The first call on July 21 was to the 7900 block Broadway, where Roger Verbiest of the L.G. Travel Bureau had been struck by a hit-and-run car driver. He received cuts and bruises and was sent to a hospital.

On July 22 at 4:26 p.m. the department was called to 7519 North ave. There Thomas Elkins, 20, had been pulled from a swimming pool by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Nancy Elkins. She had given him artificial respiration by the time firemen arrived. He was taken to Grossmont Hospital.

At 10:58 a.m. on July 26, firemen were called to 1711 El Roy. There Ralph Tenison, 55, was administered oxygen, as he had been subject to a fainting spell while attending church. He was sent to Grossmont Hospital.

Vandalism was given as the cause of a grass fire near a garage on July 22 at 3741 Harris. However, a neighbor had put out the blaze by the time firemen had arrived.

Washing auto parts in gasoline under a carport at 8371 Mt. Vernon on July 24, caused about $180 damage by fire to a car.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

What is the difference between "ser" and "estar"? How are they used?

There are two Spanish verbs that correspond to our verb "to be." They are "ser" and "estar." Even though both words mean "to be," they are used in different circumstances.

"Ser" (to be) is used to identify bodily quality, employment, or other attributes that are inherent or natural. A variation of "ser" is seen in the simple word "es" which can mean "it is, she is, or he is." Thus we may identify bodily quality by saying "ella es bonita" (she is pretty) or "el es alto" (he is tall). Employment identification may be made with the expression "ella es librera" (she is a bookseller) or "el es carnicero" (he is a butcher). A natural attribute of "hierro" (iron) is hardness which permit us to say "hierro es duro" (iron is hard).

"Estar" (to be) is employed when an attribute is temporary, accidental, expresses a state of health, or identifies emotions and feelings. A form of "estar" is seen in "esta," which means "it is, she is, or he is." A temporary state of health may be expressed with "el esta enfermo" (he is sick). An emotion is identified with "ella esta triste" (she is sad). A temporary existence in a certain locality is expressed in "ella esta aqui" (she is here).

Practice phrases below contain "es" and "esta" which are the most common variations of "ser" and "estar." You may enjoy the pattern practice of these phrases that is available through an automatic recording heard on your telephone when you dial 276-2762.

Mormon Group Licensed To Offer Adoption Service

State Social Welfare Director Robert Martin announced last week that the Unified Social Services organization of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints has been licensed as a statewide private adoption service, the first such license granted in California in 10 years.

The Mormon group will operate adoption offices in four locations: Los Angeles, Fullerton and Upland in Southern California, and Fremont in the northern part of the state. The state licensing staff worked with Richard E. Black of Simi Valley, Executive Director of Unified Social Services, and Board Chairman Ralph G.

Chalker, of Los Angeles, in the licensing arrangements.

The organization was formerly known as the "Youth Guidance and Indian Student Placement Programs" of the church, and was first licensed in 1966 as a child-pacing agency with foster homes as needed for family counseling and placement.

The Indian Placement Program offers educational opportunities to Indian children from 8 to 18 years of age, living on reservations or in rural areas, by placing them in foster homes throughout the state from September to the end of the school year in June. Complete physical care, tutoring, recreation and religious training are provided.

There were 396 Indian students in the program in 1968-69, and the number increased to 721 this past fiscal year. Many remain in the program until they are eligible for college admission, usually to Brigham Young University or the University of Utah.

The Youth Guidance Program has been involved with placements made necessary in emergency situations, such as, the death of a mother, and in the investigation of irregular placement problems.

Now that the newly named Unified Social Services organization has been licensed for private adoption services, it expands into the field of permanent placements of children under rules and regulations of the State Department of Social Welfare.

Grossmont District To Give Old Texts Away Tomorrow

More than 6,000 used school texts will be given away free to community residents tomorrow. The books will be available beginning at 7 a.m. in Room 38, a small frame building behind the District's administrative offices on the east end of the Grossmont High School campus.

The book giveaway is a popular program which has attracted hundreds of East County residents every year, many of whom wait in line for an hour for the time to begin.

Books range in subject matter from foreign languages and science texts to child care and typing manuals.

"All of the books are used. They are unsuitable for classroom use because of outdated subject material or are just plain worn out," said John Barrons, Assistant Superintendent of Educational Operations. "In some courses, in the mathematics area particularly, we are using new teaching methods and of course books in history, geography, and social studies must be constantly updated to reflect changing physical boundaries and current events.

"The books have served their purpose for our District and have been offered to all the high schools in our District and other school districts who may need them.

"Many of the books are still good for community use, for individual tutoring or 'brushing up' on some subject. The only requirement of the District is that people take only those texts they can use," said Barrons.

Texas are available in a variety of subject areas including economics, biology, chemistry, driver education, foreign languages, including Spanish with records, home economics, English, literature, public speaking, history, and mathematics.

Medical Records Training Listed

San Diego Mesa College this fall will inaugurate a new four-semester program for professional training in medical record technology.

Demand for qualified medical record technicians is high, R. R. Arnold, Dean of Vocational Instruction, said. The demand is expected to continue at a high level because of the increase in numbers and types of hospitals and the expansion of medical care needs in the coming years. The new program will bring to ten the number of health-related curriculums offered at Mesa College.

A medical record technician works in the record department of a hospital, clinic, or convalescent home, it was explained. Responsibilities include various aspects of preparing, analyzing, storing, and retrieving records and reports on illness or injury, diagnosis, and treatment. Such records are kept to preserve information of medical, scientific, and legal value to patients, doctors, insurance companies, and public health officials.

The two-year program at Mesa College will lead to an Associate in Science degree, Arnold said. Major courses include anatomy and physiology, medical terminology, medical record procedures, medical typing and transcription, and data processing.

District Puts Student-Built Home Up For Bids Tomorrow Morning

Grossmont Union High School District has called for bids on a three-bedroom, two-bath house.

The building endeavor, called Grossmont Project 200 was designed and constructed by students in the District's vocational-technical program, and funded with $12,000 from the San Diego County Savings and Loan Clearing Association.

According to Wm. W. Rorick, President of San Diego Savings and Loan Clearing Association, the Association's decision to fund the project was based on the overriding importance of the educational benefits to be derived and the subsequent value to the construction industry in helping to provide early knowledge for the builders of the future.

Located on the Santana High School campus, the house is seventy-five percent complete. The wood exterior of the one-story, five-room dwelling is complete. It is completely plumbed, wired, and has a central heating system with provisions for future air conditioning.

TEACHERS — Instructors in the backyard swim program in Lemon Grove discuss progress of their pupils. In the program, neighborhood kids learn to swim as well as learning safety rules.

The house needs installation of interior wallboard and cabinets and other general finishing touches, such as interior painting, to be liveable.

The structure, which was designed by Alan Breese, a Santana High School student, contains nearly 1250 square feet comprising three bedrooms, a living-dining area, kitchen, two baths, laundry and storage facilities, and an attached two-car garage.

It was constructed by the District's building construction trades class at Santana High School which includes students from all District schools.

In addition to students designing and constructing the house, homemaking classes developed the interior design, color schemes for both the interior and exterior, and the kitchen layout.

Business classes established the bookkeeping and accounting system necessary to calculate costs of the project.

The project has been coordinated by Lewis Orr, the building construction trades instructor at Santana High School.

The public is invited to bid on the dwelling and may inspect the structure between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on the Santana campus.

If you've been wondering why Bank of America has added those bright red carpets that run to the teller stations...

...now you'll know

The red carpet is there to speed your banking. So you get the same fast service whether you have one check to cash, or a dozen. Or even if you're standing behind someone who does. Here's how it works:

Instead of several teller lines, there's only one. Just follow the red carpet. When you're first in line, you go to the first teller who's free. If you have a favorite, step aside to let others pass until the teller you want is available.

There's no need to window hop. There's no one else at the teller window to look over your shoulder. And it's fast. That's why we call it Red Carpet Fast Teller Service.

Pads To Host Red Machine Next Week

Cincinnati's power-packed "Big Red Machine," threatening to run away and hide with the National League's Western Division championship, arrives in San Diego Monday for two games with the Padres, a team they would just as soon avoid.

If anyone this season is going to handle the rampaging Reds, it might have to be the Padres.

San Diego and Cincinnati have split their 10 games so far this year, and the Padres' five victories are the most any club has gained against Sparky Anderson's potent crew.

The Cincinnati series, Monday and Tuesday nights opens a seven game home stand for the Padres and inaugurates a 15-game home schedule in August.

The Padres believe that this will be the month when they gain ground in their battle to improve their position in the standings.

Houston follows Cincinnati for a pair of games Wednesday and Thursday evenings, a two-night doubleheader against Atlanta is scheduled Friday and the home stand concludes with a Sunday afternoon game with the Braves.

AWAITING THE THROW — Lemon Grove Bobby Sox first baseman awaits throw from shortstop in all-star contest against North El Cajon. The Grove gals had fine fielding in the contest, but couldn't score enough runs. Lemon Grove was eliminated from the tournament.

Lemon Grove Wins Area Playoff; Set For Semi-Finals Tomorrow

An explosive Lemon Grove Little League All-Star squad meets Southeast in a semi-final game for District 42 championship honors tomorrow at Twin Hills at 5:30 p.m.

Lemon Grove reached the championship round by winning the Area 3 playoff last week on the local field. They defeated the National City Nationals 9-2 in their opening contest and outlasted Southwest 6-4 in the finals.

Manager Wally Keogh's team belted five home runs in the two games and they came from five different players. In addition, some excellent pitching shut off the opposition threats.

The triumph over National City was a real team effort. Pitcher Mike Smith went the entire six innings, yielding three hits, striking out eight and walking six. He got out of bases loaded situations in both the first and fourth innings.

At bat, Smith helped his own cause with a three run homer over the right center field fence in a five run fifth inning. Stewart Hale drove in the inning's other runs with a four-bagger over the left field barrier.

The final against Southwest was a real thriller with Lemon Grove's power and outstanding relief hurling from David Taluban deciding the issue.

The locals spotted Southwest two runs in the first but got one back in the second when Hale singled and moved around on two throwing errors.

In the third, Sperla boomed a three run shot beyond the center field fence and then in the last inning, holding a slim 4-3 edge, Stafford belted a towering homer to center and Hunter stroked a pitch just inside the right field foul pole to put the game on ice.

Osberg started on the mound but was replaced by Taluban with one out in the third. Reversing Osberg's speed, Taluban flashed a dandy curve for the remaining 3-2/3 innings, fanning seven and not issuing a walk.

Final Game

Area Drivers Running Well, But Not Moving In Point Standings

Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area drivers did a lot of driving, but not much moving in the point standings at Cajon Speedway over the week end.

Dean Erwin, of Lemon Grove, the most successful of area leadfoots, moved ahead in the figure-eight point standings, strengthening his hold on first place by beating townsman Ed Hale to the checkered flag in the main event.

The win for Erwin was his fifth, Hale has three mains to his credit.

In other figure-eight action, Ole Olsen smashed into Laura Weisengrner at the "X" and sent Laura's car out of the infield with the impact. Laura was unconscious for about five minutes, but is expected to be ready for action tomorrow night.

In modified action, Spring Valley's Roger Tilton slipped down a notch in the point standings, after being involved in a spectacular flip in the main event.

Tilton's machine flipped over on its top and continued along the back straight for over 100 yards before hitting the wall. Roger expects to have necessary repairs made by tomorrow night.

In super-stock action, Bonita's Russ Bullen made off with his second straight and sixth main event of the year Saturday night, edging second-place Hale by a length.

Hale, who has put his car in excellent running condition, was second in time trials, second in the trophy dash, and charged to second in the main event, behind Bullen.

The win for Bullen helped him widen the point gap between himself and second-place Hale, who now trails by 525 points. Hale has moved away from third place John Dineen by 430 points, but can't seem to catch the steady Bullen.

Spring Valley's Pat McIntyre moved to within 55 points of Dineen over the week end, while Lemon Grove's Jim Hitt came to within 5 tallies of fifth place. Jim Osborne, of Brookside, picked up more points in his bid to grab a place in the top ten.

In limited action, Spring Valley has a fine prospect in Steve Wade, who looked good last week enroute to setting fast time, grabbing first place and a new record in the trophy dash, and nailing down his first main event win of the year.

More racing action is set for tomorrow and Saturday nights, with qualifying at 6:30 p.m. and first races underway at 8 p.m. both nights.

said Melvin Grant, principal, Mt. Miguel.

Rounding out the basketball coaching staff according to Ned Blass, Mt. Miguel athletic director, will be Robert Holm coaching JV and John Burwell who will coach the freshmen.

Jamacha Hills Gives It A Go, But Drops Out Tuesday Night

The Jamacha Hills Minor Allstars got off to an excellent start in the Spring Valley Division of the Bobby Sox All-star Tournament, by besting a highly-touted Valley Mesa team, 15-8, last Saturday, then returning Sunday to outclass South Bay, 26-3.

Valley Mesa gave the Jamacha girls a few bad moments in the early innings, as they took the lead in the bottom of the first, and again in the bottom of the third, but then they ran out of steam. Jamacha Hills, after picking up 2 runs in the third, launched its main attack in the fourth and fifth, gaining 9 runs in those innings.

The Jamacha attack resumed in the seventh, bringing in 4 more runs with the help of Nancy Glasshagel's in-the-park homer, which bounded along the center field fence.

In the second game, Jamacha made South Bay's defense look like a sieve. Again hitting practically anything pitched at them, the JH's took advantage of 21 errors and stole nearly every base that wasn't nailed down, to pile up a whopping 26 runs in only five innings.

Susan Kanatsiz pitched beautiful ball all the way, giving up only 3 walks, while striking out 8 South Bay batters. The tight Jamacha defense relaxed only once, in the bottom of the fourth, when 3 errors and a sacrifice ground-out gave South Bay its 3 runs.

Unfortunately, the Jamacha steamroller ran out of gas Monday night, grinding to a halt against a rock-solid Navajo defense. It was a pitchers' duel till the final inning, pitting the two fastest pitchers in the tournament against each other; Jamacha's Dorene Stallard and Navajo's Linda Killbourne.

Stallard pitched fine ball for five innings, but walked in a pair of runs in the bottom of the inning. Navajo then hit re-ever Jenny Stallard for a couple of tallies to put the game on ice, 8-4.

Jamacha Hills came up against a fired-up Valley Mesa team Tuesday night, and lost a tough one, 11-9, to be eliminated from the all-star tourney.

Valley Mesa grabbed the lead in the second frame, scoring seven runs with the help of a hole in the Jamacha infield. The Jamacha Hills girls made three errors in the inning.

The Hillers bounced back for three in the third and four in the fourth to tie, but Valley Mesa came back for three to sew up the win in the bottom of the fourth.

Grovers Belt Black Mountain Twice For Title

The Sky Grove-Pony League all stars met in El Cajon over the week end to decide what team would represent the inland district in the sectional playoffs.

The Grovers played three games in the tourney, winning two of the contests to advance as the top team. The odd thing about the three-team tournament, however, was that Sky Grove played only one team, Black Mountain.

Although the tourney was strange, the games were exciting. The final game saw Sky Grove jump to a 2-0 lead, but Mountain bounced back to tie in the fourth inning. Sky Grove made it 3-2 in the fifth, and 5-2 in the sixth, but Black Mountain rallied for four runs in the seventh inning.

Trailing 6-5, and with two out and a runner on, Sky Grove watched ace hitter Tom Sperla walk up to the platter and belt a two-run blast for the win, 7-6.

TO LEAD STARS — Bill Walton, Helix High' 6-11 point-maker of last year will return to the basketball court August 7 as the County All-Stars meet the City. The Walton-led County team will be favored in the annual classic, which features the top graduating basketballers in the county.

Walton To Head County In 1970 All-Star Classic

The City and County all-star teams started workouts this week in preparation for the August 7 All-Star Classic, to be held as part of a doubleheader starting at 7 p.m.

The third annual affair is sponsored by the Breitbard Athletic Foundation and will follow the Summer League Basketball Finals in the Grossmont College Gym.

The City team will be coached by Hal Metrovich, Hoover High School's cage coach, and practice will be at Hoover from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. nightly. Gordon Nash, Helix High's mentor, will guide the County stars, and will hold workout sessions at Helix.

All workouts and practice sessions are open to the public.

The County team, led by high scoring Bill Walton, Helix High' 6-11 point-maker of last year, will be favored in the contest, which features the top graduating bucketeers from San Diego County teams.

Walton, a 6-11 monster who makes a habit of scoring close to thirty points a game and pulling down better than twenty rebounds, will be joined on the County roster by Bill Belander and Jim Bristol, of Monte Vista, and 6-6 Elias Delgadillo, of Castle Park.

Paul Halupa, of Bonita Vista will also be on hand for the County team. Halupa, along with Walton, was a 1970 school All-American selection, and averaged 27 points per game in his senior year.

Tickets for the game may be purchased from any Summer League player, at the Hall of Fame in Balboa Park, or at Grossmont College, the night of the contest.

400 Expected For Biggest Tennis Tourney

San Diego County's largest junior tennis event, the 21st annual San Diego Junior Metropolitan Tennis Championships will be held Aug. 12-16 at Morley Field under sponsorship of the San Diego Tennis Patrons, sanction of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association and conduct of the San Diego Recreation Department.

Over 200 boys and girls from Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties are expected to join an equal number from San Diego County in the tourney featuring San Diego hospitality.

Youngsters are invited to participate in 19 divisions of offering spectacular trophies to winners and runners-up, attend a tennis party and dinner-dance, go to free movies and take part in Balboa Park events.

Last year's winners were Mark Shires, Encinitas, and Lori Sherbeck, Placentia, Calif. in the 18's, Chico Hagey, La Jolla, and Marita Redondo, National City, in the 16's, David Sherbeck and Miss Redondo in the 14's and Perry Wright, Beverly Hills, and Susie Hagey in the 12's.

Bears Take Minor Loop Championship

A best two-of-three playoff victory has enabled the Bears to garner top honors in the Lemon Grove Little League Minor Division this season.

Manager Bob Nye's squad took the rubber match from the Acorns, 9-8, to finish the year with an overall 18-6 won-lost record.

The Bears had taken the first game of the playoff with a 10-2 decision and then were upended 13-7 in the second contest.

Dale Bellah and Nye gave up only three bingles in the opener as the Bears picked up seven, three by Nye.

In the second game, the Acorns exploded for 11 runs in the last three innings as Mark Cervantes got the nod with a five hit performance and banged out three singles in five at bats.

Line Score
Acorns 0 0 6 0 2 0-8

WELCOME HOME FISH & CHIPS

Arthur Treacher Brings All-American Dish Back to Its Birthplace Lemon Grove

For years the world has assumed that fish & chips are as native to England as fog. England's own Arthur Treacher says "Balderdash! They're as American as smog." So he's bringing good old fish & chips back to their birthplace. And will be serving them to hungry Americans in his own carry-out restaurants.

All evidence points to fish & chips being discovered right here in our fair city. And by an American Indian at that.

His recipe called for the choicest whitefish filets, dipped in a secret batter, deep fried to a golden brown and served with crisp French fries (or as the English call them, chips), salt and malt vinegar.

As the story goes, some alert English smuggled this original recipe back to England in 1865, as reparations for the Revolutionary War, then opened England's first fish & chips house, Malin's-of-Bow. The word spread. And soon fish & chips became England's national dish.

And that original recipe? Still a Malin family secret. Upon being apprised of the 1865 recipe heist, Mr. Denis Malin agreed that Americans should have it... and has designated Arthur Treacher to put up Original Recipe Fish & Chips Shops all over the colonies.

May we suggest you try Arthur Treacher's Fish & Chips soon... before the English decide to steal our whole restaurant chain.

Gala Celebration Planned

RUSSIANS CLAIM INVENTION OF FISH & CHIPS IN 1864

Moscow—Sources here have branded the British claim to the discovery of fish & chips, "a capitalistic hoax."

The Russians say they were discovered here in 1864, one year earlier than the British claim, by one Ivan Gregonovich. Gregonovich is said to have developed the recipe while on a twenty year government paid vacation in a remote corner of Siberia.

During my unsuccessful attempt to interview the inventor he fired an empty vodka bottle at me. I can't say whether he really discovered fish & chips, but he sure throws an accurate Vodka bottle... for a two hundred year old man.

TREACHER SAYS: "English Origin of Fish & Chips Is Fish Story"

Mr. Treacher made this statement after talking with Mr. Running Ocean, grandson of the originator of fish & chips.

Ocean, who now resides on a reservation in New Mexico, gave this as the recipe his grandfather used to woo his squaw over 100 years ago: "Use only choice whitefish filets, dipped in secret batter, deep fried to golden brown and served with crisp French fried potatoes, salt and um malt vinegar. Ugh."

Said Treacher, "This proves fish & chips are the real All-American dish!"

BRITISH CLAIM INVENTION OF FISH & CHIPS IN 1865

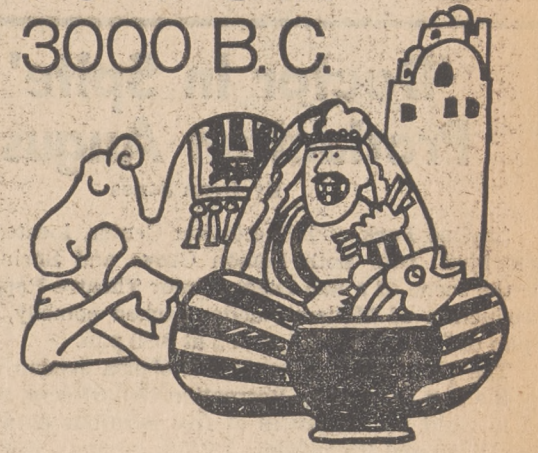

London—According to British sources here, one Joseph Malin first invented fish & chips in 1865 at his shop in East London.

The shop was called Malin's-of-Bow and is today operated by Denis Malin, the great, great grandson of the founder.

One irate Britisher curtly informed me that America's claim to the invention of fish & chips is as absurd as the British trying to claim that Shakespeare organized the New York Yankees. (By the way, who did organize the New York Yankees?)

ISRAEL CLAIMS INVENTION OF GEFILTE FISH & CHIPS IN 3000 B.C.

Mazeltov, Arthur Treacher. You and your wonderful restaurants should only enjoy good health and happiness. And while we don't mean to take anything away from your delicious fish & chips, you should only know we had them a long time ago.

David. How do you think he got the strength to slew that bum Goliath? And crossing that desert... you don't think they ate nothing but matzos, do you?

Listen. Come to Israel. So you'll eat Gefilte Fish & Chips, and enjoy.

JULY 30-AUGUST 2 GRAND OPENING OF ARTHUR TREACHER'S ORIGINAL RECIPE FISH & CHIPS SHOP

7325 Broadway, Lemon Grove

Despite a storm of protest about the true origin of fish & chips, Arthur Treacher's Original Recipe Fish & Chips Shop will have its grand opening here in our city as planned.

While no trouble is now anticipated at the opening, there was a rumor circulating around town that a group of irate British sympathizers had planned to picket the fish & chips house wearing only a British flag to show that "England had been stripped of her rightful ownership to fish & chips."

However, rumors now say natural British conservatism has won out and the would-be demonstrators have abandoned the idea.

At any rate, the grand opening promises to be quite an affair. I had a preview taste of Arthur Treacher's Fish & Chips and in this writer's opinion, American or British, these fish & chips are in town to stay.

'Doctor In Spite' Is Production August 5

By Lynn Jones

Skyline Park and Recreation Center, located at 8285 Skyline Blvd., near both Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, will be the scene of a San Diego Junior Theatre Repertory Players production of Moliere's action-packed comedy, "A Doctor in Spite of Himself" on August 5 at 8:30 p.m.

The play, directed by Mrs. Roberta Jordan and sponsored by the San Diego City Recreation Department, will be presented in eight performances at five locations between Southeast San Diego and Escondido.

The performance can also be seen at the Balboa Park Puppet Theatre on August 1 and 2 at 2:30 p.m., at Escondido Junior High on August 4 at 11:00 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., at Colina del Sol on August 6 at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m., and La Jolla on August 7 at 7:30 p.m.

Kevin Barker will be featured as Sganarelle, a shiftless woodcutter cast by a revengeful wife into the false role of a doctor. Sandy Tinker will appear as the scheming wife whose plans are thwarted when Sganarelle is rewarded for curing a girl who was only playing sick in the first place.

Others in the cast include Craig Strong, Daniel Arden, Kelly Ward, Debbie Evans, Susan Woodruff, Alan Gaines, Ray Kalanquin, Peggy Levine, Melissa Martin, Anne Steinberg, Toni Gerhardt, Joan Maltese, Lynn Miller, Mark Onstad and Steve Krasner.

The Junior Theatre will also present "Aesop's Fables" at 12:30 p.m. on August 1 and 2 and a series of Workshop Plays on August 5 and 6 at 7:30 p.m. both at the Puppet Theatre.

Mt. Miguel students will be putting on a play Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, August 6, 7, and 8, at 8:00 p.m. in the Mt. Miguel cafeteria.

"How to Start a War by Really Trying," is a satire on war, the women's liberation movement, mass media, and draft dodgers. This original musical comedy will be performed by the summer drama workshop, composed of 50 Mt. Miguel High School students.

Eight students and teacher-director, John Adams, adapted this play from the Greek play, "Lysistrata" by Aristophanes. Adams, a Spring Valley resident, is the Mt. Miguel drama instructor during the regular school year.

"The play will have a surrealistic setting and the costumes are what we are calling Greek 'mini,'" said Adams.

Musical for the play is part original and part borrowed from current Broadway plays, according to Ted Adams, who is helping with the production. He said, "We borrowed some of the music from Broadway plays, changing the lyrics to fit our script and in some cases we have written original music."

"The orchestra," as Ted explains, "is strictly one of volunteers. It's composed of high school and college youths from all over the area who are getting no school credit or pay but just enjoy helping."

The male lead role of Syd will be played by Rick Luiz. Liz, the female lead, is Toni Previtt. Co-stars are Bonnie Barth, William Beaver, Richard Block, Kathy Brunkow, Noel Christianson, Linda Clark, Daniel Cody, Diana Cody, Jan Crockett, and Amy Degenhart.

Tickets will be available at the door for $1.

The play "Oliver", which is put on by the Helix High School Summer Musical Workshop, will be repeated July 30, 31 and August 1 in the Helix High gym at 8:00 p.m.

"Oliver" from the Lionel Bart adaptation of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist," will include more than 70 youngsters in the cast and about 25 in the orchestra. Players include high school and grammar school students from San Diego and the heartland area.

Philip Paton is the producer. John Rouillard, the director, also is in charge of the orchestra, assisted by Ruth Logsdon. This play is the fifth Helix summer school workshop production.

Tickets may be obtained from cast members or at the box office on the night of the play.

Bill Would Set Ceilings On Radio-TV Campaigns

WASHINGTON — Committee — Committee-approved legislation to impose a ceiling on broadcast spending by candidates for public office is awaiting action by the House of Representatives. A key amendment to the bill was written by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, himself a former broadcaster.

"This measure is a political reform, in that it would discourage well-heeled individuals from trying to buy public office through massive blitz campaigns on radio and television," Van Deerlin said. "It should also prove a boon to viewers, hopefully cutting down on the endlessly repetitious political advertising that now clogs the airwaves at election time."

The bill was prepared by Van Deerlin's Communications Subcommittee and approved last week by the full House Commerce Committee. It will be taken up by the House within the next few weeks.

Like an earlier Senate bill, the House version would limit the TV-radio budgets of major candidates in general elections to $20,000 or seven cents for each vote cast in the last election for the office, whichever was higher. (Van Deerlin's own campaign committee spent $14,737.50 for television and $2,119.50 for radio time during the 1968 election, an outlay that is about normal for a major party congressional candidate in California.)

For primaries, the House measure sets ceilings exactly half those for general elections. Party primary elections were untouched by the Senate bill.
